Re: Help with IE 7 add−ons

Source:
http://www.tech−archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.inetexplorer.ie6.browser/2007−09/msg0034

- From: "antioch" <antioch@xxxxxxxx>
- Date: Sat, 29 Sep 2007 13:56:11 +0100

"Mike Busch" <MikeBusch@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message news:0D5D007D−96A1−41BA−9F07−6815F1ACE64B@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

> I have an add−on (awtqq.dll) in IE7 that gives me annoying pop−ups for > DiskCleaner, WinAntiSypyware, and others. I disable it and after a restart > of > IE it is right back. I disable it, close and open EI and it is not there > until the next time I open. I have read that someone said if you delete > the > file it just comes back, which makes me believe that there is something > generating this .dll. When I try to download suggested software to rid > this > file, it will shutdown IE. I am shocked Symantec or others, even Microsoft > don't have a fix for this. Any help would be gratefully appreciated.

For your info − B is your favourite as you appear to be using the web interface to post.

IE7 questions should be posted to the Internet Explorer General newsgroup as below −

A. In your Newsreader:
news://msnews.microsoft.com/microsoft.public.internetexplorer.general

B. If you need to use the Web Interface − http://www.microsoft.com/communities/newsgroups/en−us/default.aspx?dg=microsoft.public.internetexplorer.general

Rgds
Antioch

.