I have been having a problem with internet explorer 6.0 where it creates hyperlinks on random words which lead to a site called www.ntsearch.com. It also constantly reports that explorer cannot open the site (in hotmail especially) and aborts the operation. Also, whenever I come to the support sites for MSN and explorer, my mouse flickers and the page shivers!! I have updated everything on my computer, installed a firewall, done the sasser worm removal, EVERYTHING!! What can I do??

It started on my computer, and now is on the other one in the intranet.

HELP!!
