

Help with Root Certificates???

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.inetexplorer.ie6.ieak/2004-07/0030.html>

---

From: Tamra Burgwardt (tamraburgwardt_at_yahoo.com)

Date: 07/02/04

Date: Fri, 2 Jul 2004 11:03:29 -0700

HELP! I did a bunch of deleting of files to help fix a nasty virus and spamware infestation and in the process removed a bunch of root certificates from my trusted root certificates files.

Now my IE 6.0 browser doesn't find half the sites I point it towards. Some are fine so I suspect they are built on the required ones for Microsoft IE, but I have no idea how to import new ones to enable me to see anything that is not Microsoft supported.

Can anyone help me on this or is this perhaps a different problem than root certificates?

I was deleting the root certificates on the advice of a microsoft post about inoculating against future virus and trojan attacks, HOWEVER, like a fool I did not do as the instructions said in terms of exporting what I was deleting before I struck that final delete key. Damn! When in doubt, follow the direction!

Thanks in advance ---
Tamra