

Re: Acrobat within IE6

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.inetexplorer.ie6.setup/2004-10/0554.html>

From: Alan Bowie (alan.bowie_at_blueyonder.co.uk)

Date: 10/30/04

Date: Sat, 30 Oct 2004 09:07:59 GMT

Jerry, I've already tried this and it only seems to work for files in Microsoft Explorer. File associations within Internet Explorer seem to be dealt with differently, hence my interest in the registry.

Alan

"Jerry" <NoSpamChiefZeke@MSN.com> wrote in message

news:uX5ESffvEHA.3640@TK2MSFTNGP10.phx.gbl...

> Control Panel > Folder Options > File Types and change the association for > PDF files.

>

> "Alan Bowie" <alan.bowie@blueyonder.co.uk> wrote in message

> news:Bwngd.1440$T34.1258@fe2.news.blueyonder.co.uk...

>> Hi,

>>

>> I run Acrobat version 5 for creating pdf files. However, it has also >> taken >> over display of pdf files within IE6. As the two do not coexist happily,

>> I

>> would much rather use the acrobat reader to display the pdf files. I've >> looked in the registry for entries tht might affect this, but I'm >> reluctant >> to tamper with the registry without some expert advice, as one attempt

at >> making a change for this had less-than-desirable consequences.

>>

>> Can anyone advise, please?

>>

>> Thanks

>> Alan

>>

>>

>

>