

Re: Uploading OE back up files

Source:

http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.inetexplorer.ie6_outlookexpress/2005-02/0

From: Michael Santovec (michael_santovec_at_prodigy.net)

Date: 01/31/05

Date: Sun, 30 Jan 2005 16:17:43 -0800

The 'pop3uidl.dbx' is something else (that tracks previously downloaded messages when you leave a copy on the server).

I presume this is a POP3 account. If so, when you check the Mail box, it should add to the log whenever you do a Send and Receive (IMAP and HTTP servers have their own check box). After doing the Send and Receive, close OE and check for the POP3.LOG file again.

--

Mike - http://pages.prodigy.net/michael_santovec/techhelp.htm

"Rob H" <chew8@nosпам.com> wrote in message news:R4XKd.165627$K05.99276@clgrps13...

> "include this account" is checked.

> I now have a 'pop3uidl.dbx' file created. No '*.log' file. What's next?

>

> Thanks

> Rob

>

> "Michael Santovec" <michael_santovec@prodigy.net> wrote in message > news:##CNiRkBFHA.2192@TK2MSFTNGP14.phx.gbl...

>> First check Tools, Accounts, Mail, Properties, General and make sure

>> Include this account >> is checked.

>>

>> If that's not the problem, you may want to try recording a pop3.log which > will show more >> details about incoming mail.

>>

>> To create an POP3.log In OE5+, go to Tools, Options, Maintenance, > Troubleshooting, Mail

>> You may need to close OE after doing the send for the log to get written > to disk.

>> The log will be in the Store Folder which is listed in Tools, Options,

> Maintenance, Store

>> Folder.

>>

>>

>> --

>>

>> Mike - http://pages.prodigy.net/michael_santovec/techhelp.htm

>>

>>

>> "Debra Hicks" <dh5558@telus.net> wrote in message > news:FQRKd.165438$K05.115760@clgrps13...

>> > Thanks Mac. That filled in the missing pieces and worked excellent.

>> >

microsoft.public.windows.inetexplorer.ie6_outlookexpress: Re: Uploading OE back up files

>> > Now I have another problem since the new install - I do not receive > email.
>> > When I hit Send/Receive there is a quick flash popup (connecting and >> > checking mail server?) and messages I know are waiting on the mail > server do >> > not get downloaded. When I try and Send an email it works ok. On my > other >> > PC, message receipt is fine so the mail server is working OK. I've tried >> > deleting and setting up a new account with my provider and nothing > works.
>> > Best guess is that it's a Registry error and need to do some sort of > repair.
>> > Any suggestions?
>> >
>> >
>> > " mac" <macknever@fsmail.net> wrote in message >> > news:uFDCrdfBFHA.3376@TK2MSFTNGP12.phx.gbl...
>> >>
>> >> "Rob H" <chew8@email.com> wrote in message >> >> news:nVGKd.164732$K05.147602@clgrps13...
>> >> >I had a problem with XP Home and had to reinstall. Just before that, >> >> > burned my email folders and contents onto a CD for backup. I > installed >> > all >> >> > the Windows update items now but not SP2, as was in the original.
> I
>> >> > Using Explore, I tried simply to copy the folders back over the newly >> >> > created folders in OE 6.00 but that doesn't seem to work. I've looked > at
>> >> > 'Inside Outlook Express - Backup and Restore: >> >> > <http://insideoe.tomsterdam.com/backup/index.htm>' but can't seem to > find >> >> > the >> >> > specific answers.
>> >> > I can't find the right KB to assist. I'm now looking at 'Advanced >> > Outlook
>> >> > Express Repair' as a possible guide alternative to. Will that help?
>> >> >
>> >> > Does anyone have a step-by-step simple way to get my folders/files >> > copied >> >> > back into the new OE?
>> >> >
>> >> > Thanks for any advice.
>> >> > Rob
>> >>
>> >> From the last para' on that page:
>> >> <http://insideoe.tomsterdam.com/backup/simple.htm>
>> >> "If you saved your backup on a CD or a networked drive, you will need > to >> >> copy the backup to your hard disk and verify that none of the *.dbx > files >> >> are marked as "read only", or the import will fail".
>> >> -----
>> >> Copy all the dbx files including folders.dbx to a blank di-rectory on > the >> >> hard drive, select all the files>right click>Properties >> >> and remove the 'read only' attribute. Then in OE go to >> > File>Import>Messages >> >> and point it to the directory.
>> >> -----
>> >>
>> >> see the last para' on this page to import individual dbx files.

microsoft.public.windows.inetexplorer.ie6_outlookexpress: Re: Uploading OE back up files

```
>> >> www.oehelp.com/backup.aspx
>> >>
>> >> "To backup and restore a single OE5 mail folder, save the appropriate > dbx >> >> file. To restore, create a new folder in OE5 (call it archiv1, for >> > example) >> >> and access it once. Then close OE and find archiv1.dbx and delete it.
> Make >> > a >> >> copy of the folder you want to restore and rename it to archiv1.dbx.
> Then
>> >> copy that file into the directory where the previous file was deleted.
>> > Open >> >> OE and the messages you wanted to restore will be accessible via > opening >> >> that archiv1 folder".
>> >>
>> >>
>> >>
>> >
>> >
>>
>>
>
>
```