Is there a way to hide unused newsgroups from the newsgroups list? Using Forté Agent (which I use at home, but can't use at work), after downloading all the newsgroups from the server, I can select all the groups I'll never use (porn, foreign languages, etc.) and delete them from the list.

Is there a way to do this with OE?

Let's say I want to log on to news.microsoft.com and find a NG for MS Exchange so that I can post a question. In order to find the group, I currently would have to wade through 67(!) groups, most of them in foreign languages, to find the group I need. Is there any way to separate the wheat from the chaff?

TIA
