

Re: Help, please: transferring files

Source:

http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.inetexplorer.ie6_outlookexpress/2005-06/m

- From: "Michael Santovec" <michael_santovec@xxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Tue, 14 Jun 2005 14:52:40 -0700
-

For files that were copied to CD, after copying the file back to the hard disk, you must remove the Read-only attribute that all CD files automatically get before using the file in your application. Right click the file in the Windows File Explorer, select Properties and the General tab and uncheck the Read-Only box.

--

Mike - http://pages.prodigy.net/michael_santovec/techhelp.htm

"Jim Wood" <JimWood@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message <news:111EC84E-3939-429D-ACDE-CA00D1F6D123@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>

- > Thanks, Bruce,
- >
- > I had no idea about removing the 'read only' attribute. I will reference
- > your links and give it another try in the next day or so. Many thanks for
- > 'being there' for us.
- >
- > Jim

.

-
- Follow-Ups:
 - ◆ Re: Help, please: transferring files
◇ From: Jim Wood
 - References:
 - ◆ Help, please: transferring files
◇ From: Jim Wood
 - ◆ RE: Help, please: transferring files
◇ From: Jim Wood
 - Prev by Date: MSN to Outlook E-mail
 - Next by Date: Re: I.E. 6 Closing for no reason
 - Previous by thread: RE: Help, please: transferring files

Re: Help, please: transferring files

- Next by thread: Re: Help, please: transferring files
- Index(es):
 - ◆ Date
 - ◆ Thread