Since it is an MSN account, I will ask again, have you contacted MSN support to verify your username and password are correct? If not, why not? There really isn't much we can do to help you if you don't contact them. Also, is this a "paid" account with MSN or an older free account?

Hello,

i am using correct password for creating my email account on OE, but OE still say " please enter username password"

i think this is not related to msn support, because my other msn accounts working with OE.

do you have suggests?

What do you mean by saying you use "true password?"

Have you contacted MSN

support?
