

Re: 501 Error Message

Source:

http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.inetexplorer.ie6_outlookexpress/2006-12/m

- From: Bebb <Bebb@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Wed, 29 Nov 2006 15:26:01 -0800
-

Hi Steve,

Oh my goodness, Mike N and you fixed my problem, it works!!!!
Sorry for late reply, had son & Grands over and cleaning after and could only come this evening. I was waiting for a notification that you replied and it never came since late Sunday evening when I finally was free to read my e-mails, but this evening I went to check, just in case the replies weren't e-mailed, and behold, my PC is fixed. Many, many thanks Steve. I truly appreciate your help. Hoping not to write here again, have a BLESSED CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR!

Thankfully yours,
Bebb

"Steve Cochran" wrote:

Here is the fix:

"Mike N" <mnowak@xxxxxxx> wrote in message news:1157726167.927933.309020@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

I found this while searching for an answer to this problem. I was experiencing the 501 error also.

Go into Internet Options>Security tab and click the Custom Level button. Under miscellaneous there is a heading "Navigate sub frames accross different domains". This has to be set as "Enable".

Re: 501 Error Message

Change it for the Internet and Trusted sites.
Now you can format fonts.

steve

"sexy" <emmawatso@xxxxxxxx> wrote in message news:OV34Vz8DHHA.4112@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

thank u

"Steve Cochran" <scochran@xxxxxxxx> wrote in message news:F6BD8CFD-93CB-4F5F-A666-044B36574953@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

Hi Bebb,

I don't have a clue at the moment. Its hard to reproduce it, so I'm not sure what to suggest.

I'll reply to this thread if I can find a solution.

cheers,

steve

"Bebb" <Bebb@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
news:CCD998BA-41F4-4A66-BD06-E969C15DC32C@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

Hi Steve,
In case you didn't get my first query, I un-installed IE7.
That's what I was saying in my last reply, when I click the Toolbar's Format and click on the Font, I still have the 501 error message. And yes the Font
and Colors box is seen behing that error message box. Also, the Fonts list, the Size and 16 custom color boxes are available when I write an e-mail.
I
hope you can help me fix this much needed problem.

Re: 501 Error Message

Thanks again,
Bebb

"Steve Cochran" wrote:

I'm not sure what is causing that error. Someone else is having it without IE7 installed, so it may be unrelated.

Can you format the font using the format toolbar in the message window
instead of using Format | Font? When you get the error, are the font
names loaded in the dialog box behind the error window?

steve

"Bebb"

<Bebb@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message

news:66DD46BF-3720-4591-9415-13AA3C45F8CE@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

Hi again
Steve,
I just re-checked
the IE and OE default and they stayed as I changed them in the Microsoft,
but in the Custom
they do not stay in IE
and OE
default, after
I click OK

Re: 501 Error Message

the change scan takes place but when I go check that Custom,
the IE and OE
check I made are returned to the other
"default
settings".
I
don't know if this will help
you. Thanks again.
Bebb

"Steve Cochran"
wrote:

Go to Control
Panel
|
Add
/
Remove Programs
|
Set
Program
Access
and Defaults
and set IE
and OE
default
and see if

Re: 501 Error Message

that fixes
it.

steve

"Bebb"
<Bebb@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote

in

message

news:50D98908-03FE-4ACC-B3B7-D915AA893261@xxx

In
an auto Windows
Updates
IE 7 was installed,
not good,
un-installed
IE
7, now
in my OE when I
want to change
the color of the fonts when I
write an e-mail
and right click
and Fonts

Re: 501 Error Message

I
get this message:
"An
error occured
in this dialog.
Error 501 Permission denied."

I
just installed
the new Windows
Auto Updates,
minus

IE 7
and

I
still get this 501 error.
What
can I
do
to fix this problem.

Thank
you for your time.

Re: 501 Error Message