

Re: posting problems in OE 6!

Source:

http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.inetexplorer.ie6_outlookexpress/2007-06/m

- From: "Michael Santovec" <michael_santovec@xxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Tue, 12 Jun 2007 11:07:07 -0700
-

I don't think the file table is relevant.

To get back to your original problem, you make a post to a newsgroup via OE, the post ends up in your Sent Items folder, but you never see it in the newsgroup when you view the newsgroup later via OE. Is that correct?

To get back to basics, look at Tools, Message Rules, Block Sender list and make sure that you are not in the list.

You may want to create an NNTP log which will show more details about the communications between Outlook Express and your news server. Select Tools, Options, Maintenance, Troubleshooting, News. Then access the news server. The log will be created in the same folder with your DBX files (see Tools, Options, Maintenance, Store Folder). The file will have the name of the news server with a .LOG file extension. You may need to close OE after accessing the news server for the log to get written to disk.

While logging, make a post and then go back and view the group.

--

Mike - http://pages.prodigy.net/michael_santovec/techhelp.htm

"ahristosTelios" <ahristosTelios@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message news:FBAB737A-3084-4BB9-9D40-5A5153267F25@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

Ok. Can I send you a screen shot of the file table by email so you can further analyze it? If not then who would be best qualified for this? I still cannot fathom the idea that my ISP is intentionally blocking my news posts as mentioned by some MVPs in this forum! Why would they and what do they have to gain? None of this makes any sense to me!

Re: posting problems in OE 6!

Regards,

Nick Magos

"Michael Santovec" wrote:

The unknown for csapi3t1.dll is normal. At least it's the same on my PC. And that file is mostly related to the spell checker.

As for the wab files, my PC has versions and locations for both of those. But they are both related to the address book. So I don't think that is related to your problem.

--

Mike – http://pages.prodigy.net/michael_santovec/techhelp.htm

"ahristosTelios" <ahristosTelios@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message <news:9A0FA7A0-85BA-4B5A-BC34-71E5B995C7BF@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>

Ok I just noticed that upon clicking Help/About Outlook Express and reading the file versions some files are listed as <unknown>! Specifically they are:

- 1)csapi3t1.dll
- 2)wab32.dll
- 3)wab32res.dll

When looking under full path they are not in C:\Program Files or C:\Windows rather they seem to just exist on their own! Other files also fall in this category including files with known versions! Am I getting hot or is this irrelevant?

"Frank Saunders, MS-MVP OE/WM" wrote:

Re: posting problems in OE 6!

"ahristosTelios"

<ahristosTelios@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>

wrote

in

message

news:9B070BEA-01B4-4C97-96BB-EDEBDE159DC6@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

I don't know if this is relevant but I recently did a system file check upon booting and then a system defrag. If there were any system files missing wouldn't this be picked up and corrected at that time?

I reinstalled Windows Xp SP2 several months ago after a Spy sherriff infection. I went to an online help site which guided me in removing most of the problems but certain applications stopped functioning correctly after that especially the IE mini browsers. Most common applications such as Word, Paint, Notepad, etc use this mini browser in their help menus.

After reinstalling windows and the updates the help menus are work correctly again however the posting problem has still not been resolved

Re: posting problems in OE 6!

and I am
starting to get annoyed
because most of my free time is being spent
trying to solve problems instead of enjoying the internet!

I am not having any problems with emails and this is what is perplexing
me.
Since message posts get blocked why don't the emails do also unless they are being sent with a different method?! I willing to bet money
some crucial
system file is missing or corrupted but if this is the case how can it be replaced/re-registered?
What is the name of this file?

I remember re-registering Windows picture and fax viewer last
year
after
it
too would not respond after clicking on images. I was told to register a
file by using the run
command.

I hope am not boring anyone with this but I think the Re: posting problems in OE 6!

more
information one
has the better the chances for a correct diagnosis and timely
resolution!

On the Servers tab of the msnews.microsoft.com account make sure that
the option to logon is NOT checked.

Are these messages in your Sent Items?

--

Frank Saunders, MS-MVP OE/WM
Do not send mail.