Not sure why you are having problems getting your system to recognize your tuner cards.

I installed Microsoft.NET Framework 1.1

(<http://www.microsoft.com/downloads/details.aspx?FamilyId=262D25E3-F589-4842-8157-034D1E7CF3A3&display=details>) then Catalyst 5.5 (I haven't updated to 5.6 yet), then the 3 downloads of MMC 9.08

The reason I installed ATI's multimedia Center is that I was planning on using ATI media center to record in DivX while I'm in town, and Windows Media Center via <http://entertainment.msn.com/tv/guide/> while traveling (I travel a lot). I have not actually got ATI's multimedia center to work on my Windows MCE yet, but I have another system for that, so it hasn't been much of a priority for me. The Windows Media Center; however has worked just fine from the beginning.

Dowood: I used the AIW 9600 for a couple weeks before I bought the ehome wonder, and the watch one channel while recording another works just fine (as well as recording 2 different channels at once), so it isn't just the ehome wonder.

I wonder if installing MMC 9.08 has anything to do with Windows MCE recognizing my cards so easily??? Donno

Good luck
