can anyone help me?

my computer had the blue screen of death!!! i start it up, it goes through whatever it does till it gets into the log-in screen. after that it does nothing, it gets a blue screen and shuts down, so i'm thinking it might be something wrong with it internally, not a hardware issue. but heres the thing, i start it up in safe mode it dosen't work, it gets to the log in screen and it still crashes. my computer didn't come with a recovery disk, and i don't want to have to buy one plus i don't want to lose the data on my computer. so can anyone help me without losing all the stuff on my computer. reformatting isn't an option for me
