

Exchange and AD over a WAN

Source:

http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.server.active\_directory/2004-03/0912.html

---

From: Shannon Lapekas (slapekas_at_d-industrialservices.com)

Date: 03/16/04

Date: Tue, 16 Mar 2004 12:51:08 -0800

I have three established networks that will be connected using layer 3 switches in the next month. The company does not want to combine the active directories together for the three networks. They are currently using a program called Mail Daemon to get e-mail. They want to migrate to an Exchange server and have all three active directories connect to that one Exchange Server. Is this possible?