Hi

We're moving all our users' data over to a new server, and thus we need to change the settings under each users preferences -> profile tab, to match the new location of the files.

Having quite a lot of users, and also some users without a roaming profile (they just store user info on the local computer), I would like to have a script that would run through our entire AD and make the changes for me.

I have experience coding things with .net and jscript. Any hints will be much appreciated.

Marry Xmas everyone!
Egil Hansen.
