

Re: Unable to remove the Domain Controller

Source:

http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.server.active_directory/2005-04/msg01440

- From: "ptwilliams" <ptw2001@xxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Sat, 16 Apr 2005 12:11:52 +0100
-

I can't see all of this thread, but I assume you're referring to KB216498

The original server DOESN'T have to be up and running. You bind to a WORKING DC and remove the DEAD DC.

—

Paul Williams
Microsoft MVP – Windows Server – Directory Services
<http://www.msresource.net> | <http://forums.msresource.net>

• References:

- ◆ Re: Unable to remove the Domain Controller
 - ◇ From: M Thompson
- Prev by Date: Remove Additional Domain Controller Manually
- Next by Date: Re: 2003 Member Server – Netlogon service fails then eventually starts during boot
- Previous by thread: Re: Unable to remove the Domain Controller
- Next by thread: Proxy object in ADAM
- Index(es):
 - ◆ Date
 - ◆ Thread