I'm guessing you've got a legacy version of LDP, install a later version, for example, the binary that ships with Microsoft's ADAM (query google for download ADAM).

Oh, almost forgot ... I'll get smacked if I don't remember to also mention that there's a great (and free) command line utility written by a friend of mine called ADfind ... you can get that <http://www.joeware.net> - it'll do more for you than you'd possibly ever want, well worth it ... "you happy now Joe?" ;o)
