

Access to scripts(startup/shutdown) under computers

Source:

http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.server.active_directory/2005-08/msg00997

- From: "Ness" <Ness@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Fri, 12 Aug 2005 08:51:16 -0700
-

I have 2003 admin tools loaded and I use this for creating login scripts by applying a script to a OU using group policy but for some reason I can now no longer see windows settings /scripts/(startup/shutdown) under user configuration. I can see this for computer configuration but not the users. I have previously had access to this and MS technet concierge were as helpful as ever.

Any ideas?

.

- Follow-Ups:
 - ◆ RE: Access to scripts\(startup/shutdown\) under computers
 - ◇ From: lforbes
- Prev by Date: RE: Help! User cannot log in on Windows 2k
- Next by Date: RE: Help! User cannot log in on Windows 2k
- Previous by thread: Adding W2K3 DC to domain
- Next by thread: RE: Access to scripts\(startup/shutdown\) under computers
- Index(es):
 - ◆ Date
 - ◆ Thread