Depends on what you consider a major issue.
What is it you exactly need these servers to do when done?

Hello,

I need to move some MS windows 2003 servers from one domain to another.
Roles of the servers are Termail servers, SQL server and exchange server.

Can I simply take them back to workgroup servers (take them off the current DC and current domain), and then just join then to the new DC's and domain without major issue other than maybe changing IP's and DNS settings?

Thanks much,

MP
