Hello Jorge,

Please can you clarify this for me, so that i know what is right?

Best regards

Hi

How is it configured? With delegate control you can add a maximum of 10 computers to the domain. If you set the right "Add computers to the domain" in a GPO in AD they can do it without any limit.

This is wrong.

All,

I am having a familiar problem with the guys in the helpdesk not being add new computers to the domain even though their rights are the same as mine. I do not have any problem.

Some times they can add machines but other times they can't.

Is there any information about delegation or any fix that needs to be applied so that this works?

Thanks
