

User security settings lost

Source:

http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.server.active_directory/2007-12/msg00054

- From: <mpiceni@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Mon, 3 Dec 2007 10:48:20 +0100
-

Hi,

I've an active directory with 2 Windows Server 2003 SP2 domain controllers. Probably after the Exchange 2003 SP2 installation (but I'm not so sure), I experience a strange problem on user objects in Active directory. If I change some security settings on any user, after few hours the settings get reset to their original value. Even if I flag the "Allow inheritable permissions from the parent to propagate to this object...", I'll find it cleared after a while (with the inherited permissions lost). I couldn't get any help from MS KB. Anyone has ever experienced this problem ? Any solution ?

Thanks.

--

Massimo

.