

Which BackUp Software

---

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.server.general/2008-02/msg00039.html>

---

- From: allanc <allan.for.g.groups@xxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: Fri, 1 Feb 2008 13:25:25 -0800 (PST)
-

We are running a small network (2 users) on a Windows 2003 Server with SQL Server 2005.

We have not installed Exchange.

We can schedule a backup with no users on the network.

Our concern right now is to be able to create a complete backup that is relatively easy to restore to the same server. In other words, a complete image.

Are there advantages to using a third party commercial backup as opposed to NTBackup?

Thank you in advance.

.