OK, Darrell, thank you. More work, but I think in this situation it is better to reinstall.

Hello,
That is a beta version, not released code that is why you have the issue.
You have an RTM product key, but the copy you have installed is a beta version of the OS.
You can try upgrading, but the recommendation would be to clean install.
This is an earlier version of the beta, it's not even the RC1 release

would have been v.668.

Thanks,

OEM for system builders? This server is installed on a completely new available (indeed finally I got the ordered copy today). My customer did not want to install the "old" 2003-server if there is a chance that 2008 server is running on his new hardware, so we decided to install the evaluation until final 2008 is available.
