The domain admin probably does not have access to the folder being copied.
Look at the NTFS permissions on the folder in question.

I'm trying to use a scheduled task to robocopy files from my (old) winSrv2003
to my (new) WinSrv2008. It worked between Server2003 and Server2003 in the past. I keep getting one of these for each source directory:
"ERROR 5 (0x00000005) Changing File Attributes <source directory listed here> Access is denied"
The account used by the task is a member of Domain Admins.
