Hello mikee,

I assume in the internal network, not dmz, you have internet access. Install WSUS there and let the dmz machines pull the updates from the WSUS.

Best regards

We have a w2k3 domain. We have some servers on our dmz and we can't give them access to the internet to download patches. Does microsoft have a site that has all the patches, and something that will scan the server and then install all needed patches from a cd or dvd? We don't want to have to download the patches one by one and then copy them to a disk. ie an iso of all pathces that we can install would be nice.

Thanks in advance
