

More Migration Questions

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.server.migration/2004-03/0837.html>

From: Roger Crawford (rcrawford_at_nospam.scci.com)

Date: 03/26/04

Date: Fri, 26 Mar 2004 07:32:23 -0600

OK I have got a read about doing the migrations and I am doing a Interforest Migration in the morning from a 2000 domain to a 2003 domain. My question is once you have moved all your users and computers and such from the old domain and you are sure the clients are working properly on the new domain. Do you just demote and down your old server in the old domain then? We are planning on re formatting that server and bring it up with a fresh OS and making it a DC in the new domain? Thanks

Roger Crawford
HTS