

Re: Help me

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.server.migration/2004-08/0419.html>

From: abc (abc123)

Date: 08/16/04

Date: Mon, 16 Aug 2004 14:24:30 +0800

Dear all

Could you tell me how to set "workstation has domain administrators (for old NT4.0

domain) as a member of local administrators group. and old NT4.0 domain admin has admin rights in new domain(windows 2000)."?

Thanks

"Paul" <paul@quista.net> wrote in message

news:20e1a162.0408151310.6005c16f@posting.google.com...

> "abc" <abc123> wrote in message

news:<u4MBDhcgEHA.1972@TK2MSFTNGP09.phx.gbl>...

> > Dear all

> >

> > When I use computer migration and securtiy translation admtools, the error

> > display

> > " The Active Directory Migration Tool Agent will be installed on \\ws

> > 2004-08-14 14:25:44-E20275: You do not have administrator privileges on > > \\ws. The agent will not be installed.

> > 2004-08-14 14:25:44-E20724: Failed to launch agent on \\ws, hr=80070005

> > Access is denied.

> > 2004-08-14 14:25:45-All agents are installed. The dispatcher is finished."

> > Would you please tell me how to do?

> > If I run user migration , it is no problem about administrator right(that is > > success)

> >

> > Thanks

>

> Try logging on to your new ADS machine as a domain admin for the old > domain, make sure the workstation has domain administrators (for old > domain) as a member of local administrators group. Also make sure old > domain admin has admin rights in new domain.