

Re: Just a little simple question...

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.server.migration/2004-12/0412.html>

From: Moreno (mbondi_at_libero.it)

Date: 12/18/04

Date: Sat, 18 Dec 2004 16:22:54 +0100

Martin,

I tried to download the last version of DSCLIENT but in the Microsoft's website the informations says that the version of the dsclient.exe is 1.0, published 12/14/2001.

Is this correct?

I'm not sure...

TIA!

Morenp

"Herb Martin" <news@LearnQuick.com> ha scritto nel messaggio
news:eJybtG5EHA.936@TK2MSFTNGP12.phx.gbl...

> "Moreno" <mbondi@libero.it> wrote in message

> news:OLMrHpG5EHA.2016@TK2MSFTNGP15.phx.gbl...

>> Thanks Martin!

>>

>> But, the DSClient contained in the W2003 CD works fine with WNT SERVER

> 4.0?

>>

>> Isn't it specific only for WNT 4.0 Workstation and W9x client?

>

> Not sure which is which, but if you get the most recent

> DSClient from the MS web site you will be fine. It > will work as well for servers as it does for NT WS.

>

> The Win2000 Server CD ONLY had the (equivalent) client

> for the 9x machines and at that time you were forced to get > the NT client piece from the MS website.

>

> Don't let the word "client" fool you, it is for any AUTHENTICATION

> client running an NT or 9x legacy system with Win2000+.

>

> Also don't let the old (original) name fool you: Active

> Directory Client Upgrade -- it never made these machines > Active Directory clients in any true sense, they won't > use GPOs, download software updates automatically, or > even use Kerberos authentication.
>
> --
> Herb Martin
>
>
>>
>> Thanks in advance!!!
>>
>> Moreno
>>
>>
>> "Herb Martin" <news@LearnQuick.com> ha scritto nel messaggio
>> news:%23eu4YNG5EHA.3760@tk2msftngp13.phx.gbl...
>> > "Massimo" <barone@mclink.it> wrote in message
>> > news:OGRJQmF5EHA.1596@tk2msftngp13.phx.gbl...
>> >> "Moreno" <mbondi@libero.it> ha scritto nel messaggio
>> >> news:%23Te3PYF5EHA.1396@tk2msftngp13.phx.gbl...
>> >>
>> >> > ....is there any problem in making a simple NT 4.0 server only a >> >> > MEMBER SERVER in a new WINDOWS Server 2003 domain???
>> >>
>> >> No.
>> >
>> > Massimo is correct in general but be aware that >> > you need the service packs and/or DSClient on >> > the legacy machines since Win2003 requires SMB
>> > signing.
>> >
>> > You should have those items installed anyway but >> > you will be disappointed and think that it is a Win2003 >> > problem if you don't.
>> >
>> > --
>> > Herb Martin
>> >
>> >
>> >>
>> >> Massimo
>> >>
>> >> P.S.
>> >> How's your migration going? :-)
>> >>
>> >
>> >
>>
>>
>>
>

microsoft.public.windows.server.migration: Re: Just a little simple question...

>