

Web pages not authorized w/ anonymous access

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.server.sbs/2004-07/7885.html>

From: Juan (juan_at_bgtl.com)

Date: 07/30/04

Date: Fri, 30 Jul 2004 10:53:12 -0700

I found the answer, It had to do w/ permission to the WWW folder.

In case anyone comes across the same problem, this article might come in handy.

Juan

<http://www.winnetmag.com/Web/Article/ArticleID/21933/21933.html>

>-----Original Message-----

>Hi,

>

>I keep getting a not authorized 401 error when trying to >access web pages.

>

>Here are the steps taken in IIS 6.0 manager

>-Servername expand to web sites

>-right click properties

>-Directory Services tab

>-Authentication access control - edit

>-checked enable anonymous access

>-username is IUSR_user (which I created) b/c

>IUSER_servername is not listed under users.

>-entered password for IUSR_user.

>

>IUSR_user account is a member of the following

>_WebAnonymous Users

>_Web Applications

>Domain Users

>Guests

>Pre-Windows 2000 compatible access

>

>Any help would be appreciated

>

microsoft.public.windows.server.sbs: Web pages not authorized w/ anonymous access

>
>