

Re: HELP – I am being forced to give up my DOMAIN name

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.server.sbs/2004-11/4366.html>

---

From: Jan (jan\_at\_.n.o.com)

Date: 11/17/04

Date: Thu, 18 Nov 2004 08:09:59 +1100

You will have to forward all email with unresolved recipients to smart host.
Smart host being your company main mail server. This setting is in Default SMTP Virtual server.

```
--
Jan Wakulicz
www.micropol.com.au
"Rick Steele" <RickSteele@discussions.microsoft.com> wrote in message news:350D3D4F-AF38-4265-91A7-474C99BFC32B@microsoft.com...
> We have a SBS 2003 server and have been hosting our own Internet e-mail > for 2 > years using our domain name. Our Corporate office has decided they will > start
> hosting all corporate e-mail and they have forced us to point our domain > name
> to there e-mail server.
>
> We have changed our exchange server to retrieve our e-mail from the > corporate server using the pop3 connector which works correctly.
>
> We were hosting the e-mail for several remote users who are now hosted by > the corporate server so we deleted those users from our SBS server. Now we > can't send e-mail to any of the remote users we used to host. we get the > following bounce message:
>
> Your message did not reach some or all of the intended recipients.
>
> Subject: Testing
> Sent: 11/5/2004 8:10 AM
>
> The following recipient(s) could not be reached:
>
> Nikki Smith on 11/5/2004 8:10 AM
> A configuration error in the e-mail system caused the message > to > bounce between two servers or to be forwarded between two recipients.
> Contact your administrator.
>
> <ourdomain.org #5.4.6>
>
> Our Exchange recipient policy is still set to our domain name.
>
> We do seem to be able to email everyone else in the company.
```

microsoft.public.windows.server.sbs: Re: HELP – I am being forced to give up my DOMAIN name

>
> Any help would be appreciated. This has been ongoing for about 3 weeks now > and is becoming a real problem.
>
> Thanks.
> Rick