

Re: How to add NT4 Server to SBS2003 domain?

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.server.sbs/2004-11/6356.html>

---

From: Eugene Tan (insights-[dropthis])

Date: 11/25/04

Date: Fri, 26 Nov 2004 00:03:39 +0800

hi,

Thanks all for your replies.

So one has to create an account in SBS2003 first before NT will be able to join.

Regards,
Eugene Tan

=====

"GG" <news@nospam.assysm.com> wrote in message
news:e08u%23Vu0EHA.3976@TK2MSFTNGP09.phx.gbl...

>
>> *How can the old NT server be moved to the new SBS domain >> either as a member server or just as a PC that shares files?
>> It would then be easier to share files as well as not need to open the >> shared folder to everyone and guests.*
>
> Easy.
> *On SBS you have to disable SMB encryption in the strategy > of the server and create one machine account (name of NT) in > de Organisation Unit MyBusiness > Computers SBSServers
> On NT 4 before to record it on domain you have to install SP6a > and Active Directory client you can find it on :*
> <http://www.microsoft.com/networkstation/downloads/Other/adclient.asp>
>
> --
> Regards.
> GG.
>
>