

Re: Non Domain Computers trying to access shared Files on SBS2003 serv

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.server.sbs/2005-02/0334.html>

From: Chris Jones (cka691_at_alltel.net)

Date: 01/31/05

Date: Mon, 31 Jan 2005 13:27:05 -0500

If you name the workgroup the same as the domain they will be able to connect after authentication.

"newSBS2003admin" <newSBS2003admin@discussions.microsoft.com> wrote in message news:5CB255D8-A6B3-4EE0-9235-8298BA84E151@microsoft.com...

>I just installed SBS2003. Server is running just fine. Setup one network > share. I have three computers that are not join to the domain. Will these > machine be able to get access to this share or do i have to join them to > the > domian to get access?(would perfer not to join the domain if dont need to)
> The three workstations need to have Full access to this shared drive. What > is > the benifit to join the domian.....