

Re: Administrator Rights

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.server.sbs/2005-06/msg03863.html>

- From: Dave Mills <News@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Tue, 14 Jun 2005 06:45:06 +0100
-

Only administrator and power users can create shares.

"Carl Gross" <CarlGross@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote:
in message <008F306C-537E-4AB8-AF67-BB0D8298D919@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx>

>I have found it necessary to tighten up security on the user's machines >lately.
>
>In order to start, I have been setting user rights on each persons disk with >domain/local admins having full control and domain/local users have RWX >rights. However, I haven't been able to set shares (the option doesn't even >appear when I log on to the domain from the workstation). I went to setting >the domain/local user for each machine admin rights but I still can't >uninstall some programs.
>
>I'm stupmed please help. I have a SBS 2003 server with W2K SP4 workstations

-
- Follow-Ups:
 - ◆ Re: Administrator Rights
◇ From: "Charles Yang [MSFT]"
 - References:
 - ◆ Administrator Rights
◇ From: Carl Gross
 - Prev by Date: Re: W32 time random warnings on clients
 - Next by Date: RE: RWW Issue
 - Previous by thread: Administrator Rights
 - Next by thread: Re: Administrator Rights
 - Index(es):
 - ◆ Date
 - ◆ Thread