

Exhcnage Email – Internal and External – I know this has been answered but I am still having problems!

Exhcnage Email – Internal and External – I know this has been answered but I am still having problems!

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.server.sbs/2005-06/msg06075.html>

- From: "Robert" <big_rob_830@xxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Wed, 22 Jun 2005 13:38:58 -0400
-

My setup:

SBS 2003 Running Exchange

Internal Domain – PGSIDOM.Local

External Domain – PGSI.com – Being hosted by Network Solutions (MX Records on their side)

Bascially what is going on here is my employees are somehow sending email from their .local account to the outside world. It use to send a NDR but for some reason it is now resolving domain names... It is becoming a lot of fustraton and everyone wants me to run the CCIEW wizard or w/e it is. Althouhg I don't see an advantage in doing this because I am paying Network Solutions to host all that stuff on their side. When I use Outlook 2000 it will know which account to use when sending an email I cna't figure out why Outlook 2003 will send email from an internal account to the outside. I've asked this question numerous times and never got the help I need... I always get brushed off with "Run the CCIEW Wizard!"

.

• Follow-Ups:

◆ Re: Exhcnage Email – Internal and External – I know this has been answered but I am still having problems!

◇ From: Matt Gibson

- Prev by Date: Re: Block all Internet access except certain sites – Not working properly – HELP
- Next by Date: Re: sqlservr.exe memory use grows over time
- Previous by thread: Server Performance Report: "No data is available for this section.
- Next by thread: Re: Exhcnage Email – Internal and External – I know this has been answered but I am still having problems!
- Index(es):
 - ◆ Date

Exhcnage Email – Internal and External – I know this has been answered but I am still having problems!

Exchange Email – Internal and External – I know this has been answered but I am still having problems!

◆ Thread

Exchange Email – Internal and External – I know this has been answered but I am still having problems!