when you run it from a command line...are you logged into the machine with an account that has admin privileges (domain or local)?

Hi,

I have assigned an application to a client computer through the wizard. The shortcut is placed on the desktop when I login but when I click the link the error message says "The command "\\server\ClientApps\tool\tools.msi" failed to run. Please verify that the server name, path and executable name are valid'.

I can run the command from the run.. option on the Start menu and in explorer and IE.

Can anyone point me to where I can find some information?

Thanks,
Ben
