

Re: Block websites

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.server.sbs/2005-08/msg04111.html>

- From: Skc <Skc@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Mon, 15 Aug 2005 02:11:01 -0700
-

SuperGumby,

Yes – ISA is implemented. I went to deny rule, but I cannot put a URL in-only IP. Is this correct?

Can you give me some instructions for setting up a rule to deny www.homechoice.co.uk

Thanks

"SuperGumby [SBS MVP]" wrote:

- > Though you have Premium you do not necessarily yet use ISA.
- >
- > Is ISA implemented?
- >
- > ISA deny rules always override allow rules. (last I looked)
- >
- > "Skc" <Skc@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
- > news:D82BB38F-9D28-451A-94C3-70C94E988289@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx
- >> We are running SBS2003 Premium with around 50 XP Pro clients and 10 Win2K
- >> clients.
- >>
- >> I want to block access to certain websites, and I do not know how to do
- >> this. For instance, I want to block www.homechoice.co.uk and other
- >> websites
- >> at my discretion.
- >>
- >> Please can you tell me how I can do this.
- >>
- >> Thanks.
- >>
- >> Skc
- >
- >
- >
- .

- Follow-Ups:
 - ◆ Re: Block websites
 - ◇ From: SuperGumby [SBS MVP]

- References:
 - ◆ Block websites
 - ◇ From: Skc
 - ◆ Re: Block websites
 - ◇ From: SuperGumby [SBS MVP]

- Prev by Date: Re: RAS/VPN problems
- Next by Date: RE: Help please
- Previous by thread: Re: Block websites
- Next by thread: Re: Block websites
- Index(es):
 - ◆ Date
 - ◆ Thread