Hello Branford,

Thank you for posting back!

I understand that you have installed a server and it also has the same issue. Please understand that we need to troubleshoot the server and issue one by one.

Please understand that the information I required is very important for us to troubleshoot your issue. We cannot perform any research without accurate error information. I am greatly appreciated if you could us to gather the following information:

1. What is the exact error message shown to you? Please copy and paste the full content of the error message to the Newsgroup. You can capture a screen shot for this issue.
2. Open IE -> Tools -> Internet Options -> Advanced -> Uncheck the box Show Friendly HTTP Error Messages. Reproduce the issue, copy and paste the full content to the Newsgroup.
3. Have you tried the steps in the KB 823379 in my last reply? Does it work?
4. Please help to gather the following error information (1, 2 and 3) in my previous reply.

I am greatly appreciated your time and co-operation, and am looking forward to hearing from you!

Best regards,

Brandy Nee
