I have fought this one for years.

Best I've ever been able to figure out is your being blocked internally by hotmail.

Internal Blacklist.

MSN

Yahoo

AOL

All do this from time to time for WHO only know why.

Maybe they saw traffic from your server that there system's thought looked funny and black listed you.

It was always ebb and tied.

2 weeks you have a problem, several months you are fine.

And lord help you if you are up and going great and change an IP.

You start all over again in systems as a (bad until proven good address).

My 2 cents
