RE: Update Client Applications Isn't

After running <http://Server/ConnectComputer>, the client applications were not running on the client machine. No error message, the computer just SAT there, doing absolutely nothing. Not even a hum. Reboot didn't fix.

I don't know WHY or HOW -- but after I wrote this message, I tried one more time to go to the Server, clicked on "client applications", and started over.

I went back to client machine, and logged on yet again. THIS time, the applications loaded (dang if it wasn't fast as greased lightening to make up for not running for three days).

So, I have no need to follow these directions THIS time. Somehow, somehow,

the system decided to quit messing with me. Thanks anyway, Brandy!
