Hi Guys,

I have been chasing this error for a while.

I keep getting this error when i try to access the netowrk drive.

A specified authentication package is unknown.

I am on win2k server sp4 and i cant get to any other computers in the network.

i can resolve the error after a restart, but it comes back after 5 mins.

In the event viewer i get this error.

Source LsaSrv,

"the security package negotiate generated an exception. The package is now disabled. the exception information is the data"

Any idea how i can solve this?

I have done virus scan, but i dont think it is the cause.

It is a clean installation and the only software is the oracle 9.2.0x server.

thanks in advance!
