Let me run this down...

I have a user and a machine.... I can login as user on there machine but cannot access network shares... says i cant.

I can use that same login on another machine and it will work fine...

I can use someone elses login on machine that the user can connect to shares on but all other logins work.

I have rebuilt account in active director no go ,,, removed and rejoined system from domain. No go. cleaned out any spyware no go.....

All updates are on both systems.

Error in even manager on xp pro system is userenv errors 1030 i believe any ideas?
