Is it possible to use a password to limit a folder's access by domain users in SBS2003? if not are there third party software that can ?

This is the scenario. I have two domain users, one belonging to the power group and the other to the remote group. Only these two users need full access to this folder. The problem is that the administrator password is known by other power users who can then access the folder. The other power users sometimes need access as the administrator to work on the server. Apart from changing passwords is there another way forward?
