SP1 for Windows Sever 2003 is currently in Technical Beta testing.

It is covered by non disclosure agreements as it is it still a significant amount of time away from release (unlike SP2 where we are running a public preview program)

Hence no public information on it.

So there is little information for Window Server 2003 as we are not ready yet to release any.

Continue to use Window Update to ensure your system is secure and await the release of Windows Server 2003 SP1 as covered at

<http://www.microsoft.com/windows/lifecycle/servicepacks.mspx>

Later this year
