

Strange behavior

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.server.setup/2007-01/msg00005.html>

- From: "Will Sellers" <willsellers@xxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Tue, 2 Jan 2007 17:14:08 -0500
-

We have 16 desktops in our computer lab. Every 4 units are connected to a switch .

Today we had a situation where 2 computers on the same switch authenticated but when we try to access network resources , we get a message that the domain controller is inaccessible. We did a restart on the computers and they work fine.

What causes a desktop to not be seen by the domain controller?

Could the lease and renew comfit in DECO cause this behavior?

.