Using Windows Server 2003 Enterprise with Clients that are XP Professional.

I have several users setup in the Domain Admin group.

They all have Roaming Profiles. When I remove them from the Domain Admin group, their roaming profiles do not show up on the client computer correctly?

Question 1 – Why does it matter whether or not they are in the Domain Admin group?

Question 2 – Shouldn't their profile follow them from computer to computer – thats basic!?

Comment – When I add them back to the Domain Admin Group – all is perfect??

Any thoughts appreciated, I have been trying to figure this one out for a couple months now.
