Yes.

<http://msdn.microsoft.com/subscriptions/faq/> addresses this:

Do MSDN subscriptions include CALs for Terminal Services?

Yes. To install client access licenses (CALs), please follow these instructions.

If you are a Microsoft Certified Partner, you can only install the TS CALs by phoning the Clearinghouse (i.e. use the Telephone method when activating the TS Licensing Server).

Documented here:

Hi Everyone,

I have a technet subscription and I am trying to teach myself about terminal services and Citrix. Is there any way to dummy the licenses so I don't get the error that in 105 days Terminal Services will expire?

Thanks,
