

Re: BITS Error 2147942402 (0x80070002)

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windowsupdate/2005-05/msg01191.html>

- From: "Little Cupcakes" <edmioduckiTOTALLYgmail.com>
 - Date: Wed, 18 May 2005 23:48:19 -0700
-

These proposed solutions were ineffective for me as well.

Can qmgr.dll and qmgrprxy.dll be deleted (assume that dllcache should be involved?) and then a reinstall of BITS be performed?

Note Paca's suggestion is the same as "rd /q /s
"%ALLUSERSPROFILE%\Application
Data\Microsoft\Network\Download-der"

Help me Obi-Wan... You're our only hope

"TaurArian" <taurarianREMOVECAPS@xxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
news:%23c8\$OksWFHA.3320@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

- > Try re-registering the Qmgr.dll and Qmgrprxy.dll BITS files.
- > 1. Click Start, click Run, type regsvr32 qmgr.dll in the Open box, and
- > then click OK.
- > 2. Click OK.
- > 3. Click Start, click Run, type regsvr32 qmgrprxy.dll in the Open box, and
- > then click OK.
- > 4. Click OK.
- >
- >
- >
- > Try WU again (you may need to reboot) first.
- >
- >
- >
- > Also this was posted by "Paca" (but with a different error code).
- >
- > "If your computer download an update, but there is not a error number
- > check the view installation history. you might get an error 80246008. If
- > that is the case. you might have an error 2147024891 after trying to the
- > BIT
- >
- > start/run: services.msc
- > double click on: Background Intelligent Transfer Service
- > change it to manual, and then click start ..if you get 2147024891 error..
- >

Re: BITS Error 2147942402 (0x80070002)

> DO THIS !!!!!IT WORKED FOR ME!!!!

>

> Delete the two files in:

>

> C:\Documents and

> Settings\AllUsers\ApplicationData\Microsoft\Network\Downloader

>

> run the start in the Background Intelligent Transfer Service > and you will see the update windows running again :)"

>

>

>

>

>

>

> Little Cupcakes wrote:

>> Thanks for the suggestion.

>>

>> After doing more research, I downloaded the file and ran it, but, as I >> suspected from what I read, that update won't install on my SP2 >> machine since I have a "newer" version already.

>>

>> Is there an unofficial uninstall of BITS that I should do first?

>>

>> Thanks.

>>

>> "LC"

>> "TaurArian" <taurarianREMOVECAPS@xxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message

>> news:unOjT\$WFHA.1796@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

>>> 0x80070002 --2147024894 - ERROR_FILE_NOT_FOUND

>>> The System cannot find the file specified

>>>

>>>

>>> You can download the BITS file from one of these links:-

>>>

>>> Update package that includes Background Intelligent Transfer Service

>>> (BITS) version 2.0 and WinHTTP 5.1 is available for Windows Server

>>> 2003, for Windows XP, and for Windows 2000

>>> <http://support.microsoft.com/default.aspx?scid=kb;en-us:842773>

>>>

>>> or

>>>

>>> <http://www.microsoft.com/downloads/details.aspx?familyid=b93356b1-ba43-480f-983d-eb19368f9047&displaylang=en>

>>> Update for Background Intelligent Transfer Service (BITS) 2.0 and

>>> WinHTTP 5.1 (KB842773)

>>>

>>>

>>> "Little Cupcakes" <edmioduckiONLYATgmail.com> wrote in message

>>> news:u9JphYaWFHA.2420@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

>>>> Win XP SP2

>>>>

Re: BITS Error 2147942402 (0x80070002)

Re: BITS Error 2147942402 (0x80070002)

>>>> BITS set as "Automatic"
>>>>
>>>> In event viewer: "The Background Intelligent Transfer Service >>>> service terminated with service-specific error 2147942402 >>>> (0x80070002)." From services.msc (trying to start BITS manually) the >>>> error is >>>> reported as
>>>> "service-specific error code -2147024894".
>>>>
>>>> I've seen many other posts about various OTHER BITS error codes
>>>> (and I assume we all mean Background Intelligent Transfer Service) >>>> and have tried >>>> some of the solutions for those different codes.
>>>>
>>>> Thus far these have not worked:
>>>> -checked the log on tab in services.msc-this service is enabled for >>>> this profile
>>>> -used "rd /q /s "%ALLUSERSPROFILE%\Application
>>>> Data\Microsoft\Network\Download-der"
>>>> -verified "Workstation" service is running
>>>> -following the advice of a poster, tried to find a download of BITS >>>> <http://www.microsoft.com/downloads/details.aspx?familyid=8c6ef6c8-2abf-43c7-&displaylang=en> >>>> but the file's not there anymore.
>>>>
>>>> I also saw posts regarding BITS 2.0. I don't even know if that >>>> applies to my situation, so I haven't tried that.
>>>>
>>>> Thanks in advance for the help.
>>>>
>>>> "LC"
>

• Follow-Ups:

- ◆ Re: BITS Error 2147942402 (0x80070002)
◇ From: TaurArian

• References:

- ◆ BITS Error 2147942402 (0x80070002)
◇ From: Little Cupcakes
- ◆ Re: BITS Error 2147942402 (0x80070002)
◇ From: TaurArian
- ◆ Re: BITS Error 2147942402 (0x80070002)
◇ From: Little Cupcakes
- ◆ Re: BITS Error 2147942402 (0x80070002)
◇ From: TaurArian

Re: BITS Error 2147942402 (0x80070002)

- Prev by Date: Command-line switches for Windows software update packages
- Next by Date: Error w/ Installer 3.1 Update (KB893803) error 0x8024000b
- Previous by thread: Re: BITS Error 2147942402 (0x80070002)
- Next by thread: Re: BITS Error 2147942402 (0x80070002)
- Index(es):
 - ◆ Date
 - ◆ Thread