hello bpa thanks for replying.

In regards to your inquiring, the "red x" (with a yellow question mark by it) appears in the "status" column, and it was by clicking on these icons that I was directed to the different areas for each one, and downloaded and installed the ones listed.

I've tried this procedure twice with each one.

Do you feel that since I did have the opportunity to download and install each one, that they are truly installed, and the history list continuing to show "failed" can just be overlooked?

---Thanks for your help ----
