Hi,

I did post instruction on how to "hide the update"...

Regards,
Torgeir

Thank you for your help, but it didn't work. Still in an endless loop of asking me to update.

On that same website you linked me to, I did everything it said on this page:
<http://www3.telus.net/dandemar/updtlp.htm>
and still, the problem persists.

Re: KB899587 keeps installing

Any other ideas?

Hi,

Unless your computer is a domain controller, or a domain client computer where you use smart card for authentication, you don't need this update, and I suggest you hide the update.

More about this update here:

Microsoft Security Bulletin MS05-042
Vulnerabilities in Kerberos Could Allow Denial of Service,
Information Disclosure, and Spoofing (899587)
<http://www.microsoft.com/technet/security/bulletin/ms05-042.mspx>

To hide the update:

Double click on the AU icon in the notification area and select "Custom Install", unselect the update in question, and when later on asked, select to never show the update again.
