I am running Vista Ultimate and I cannot install any updates.
It fails and gives this error code.

Re: Error code 8007000B when trying to install updates

Same here, been in touch with tech support 2 times, the first time, he was "perplexed", and couldnt resolve the issue. Second time, got an email from someone higher up the food chain, he asked for all kinds of info such as my Windows update log, and sys config info.

He gave me a list of stuff to try, but none of it worked,

So, why not post those suggestions for the OP?
They may work for someone else too.

Has your support person given you more details about your error?
Just because you have the same error code as the OP doesn't mean that you have the same problem, especially with this code:

<http://docxp.mvps.org/WU5-ERR.htm>

<quote>
0x8007000B -2147024885 COR E BADIMAGEFORMAT
The format of the DLL or executable being loaded is invalid
</quote>

E.g. are you both failing for the same .dll or for a different one?
Same component at least? Etc.

so I sent the stuff to him and I'm still waiting. Been just over 24 hours now. Will keep ya posted if they fix it.

Post better details if you want more help.

Good luck
