Freudi answered your questions, but I have one for you: When you say you "couldn't get online", do you mean you couldn't open Internet Explorer or you can open IE but it won't connect?

Hi PA Bear.... nope but that is the issue... So, just so I'm clear.. I don't need this update, but if I install it, then when do I run the "type: netsh winsock reset "

Example: Turn off McAfee, install KB927891, reboot. Cmd "type: netsh winsock reset " reboot, or do I not have to reboot twice?

Hi Freudi... you've helped me before.. Can you help again? I installed the KB927891 and then again I couldn't get online.. So, I uninstalled and then rebooted and closed my McAfee and installed and rebooted, but I still cannot get online with KB927891 installed

What can I do?

Yup, and there's a version of KB927891 for Windows 2000 now too,
available at least via DownloadCenter:
